RE: Price Diversion (65-3356)
pg. 132, Cox Decree

DATE: August 31, 1992

A field inspection was made on August 19, 1992, of the Price Diversion. In a meeting with Sanpitch Water Users, David Reese indicated that the assessment for the Price Diversion has not been paid for the reason that water is no longer diverted at said point. This comment resulted in this inspection. The enclosed photographs show that the price diversion is in excellent condition and can divert the Sanpitch River into two separate ditches. The ditches are located on each side of river upstream approximately 20 feet from the diversion dam.

In summary, the Price diversion is in use and therefore water users from said diversion should continue to be assessed. This diversion however, has an 1882 priority and diverts the excess water or river make below the West Point Irrigation diversion.
